

Giving From the Heart Giving To God

St. Mary's Cathedral is a positive spiritual home for greater Memphis. Through our mission statement "a house of prayer for all people", we are becoming an energy center of Gospel hope, touching thousands of lives each year. St. Mary's is a place where we can feel the magnetism of God, knowing we are unconditionally loved and inspired to be our fullest selves in doing Christ's work in our community.

We are always better through your plentiful, brilliant involvement, and I am grateful for you! That is why we are delighted to invite you to give to God with your generous offering of tithe and precious gifts of time and talent. There is no better time to invest in St. Mary's mission. We are charged with holy momentum now due to our vibrant parishioners, creative and dedicated staff, glorious music program, robust style of worshipping God, brilliant teaching of the ancient Good News, and service to the community in courageous and deeply committed ways. St. Mary's is a holy family, where all are welcomed and valued. O, what more glory can be done with your added generosity!

Give even more from your heart to God through St. Mary's this year. Our faith family is praying for you to not be afraid. Our beautiful, old building needs to be better taken care of. Memphis and God are depending us to continue our robust ministry of inspiration and benevolence, blessing and healing, and transforming lives through Christ.

Recipes from Sunday

Ryan Godbey's
Chocolate Chip Cookies

Thanks to Ryan for sharing this fabulous cookie recipe that is a favorite among all who sample!

Preheat oven to 365° F.

Ingredients:

2 1/4 c all-purpose flour

1 tsp baking soda

1 tsp salt (I prefer himalayan pink)

1 c (2 sticks) unsalted butter, softened

3/4 c granulated sugar

3/4 c firmly packed brown sugar

1 1/4 tsp vanilla extract

2 large eggs

2 c (12-oz. pkg.) semi-sweet chips (can also sub dark chocolate or whatever chips you like)

1.1/2 c chopped nuts

Combine flour, baking soda, and salt in a bowl.

In a separate, large bowl, beat butter, granulated sugar, brown sugar, and vanilla extract until creamy.

Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Gradually beat in flour mixture.

Stir in morsels and nuts.

Drop by rounded teaspoon onto ungreased baking sheets. Make them smaller as opposed to larger.

Bake for 7 minutes! They may not look done, but they are (unless you made them too large.) They may still look too light, but they will cook a bit more after you take them out. If you like them chewy and moist, do it this way. Cool on baking sheets for 1-2 minutes; move to wire racks to cool completely. Lay parchment/wax paper between layers if you need to stack them to prevent sticking. Enjoy!

The Canon's Corner

November is a month in which we name things we are grateful for. I am grateful for so much in my life. For these changing fall temperatures and leaves. For my life. For family. And I am grateful for our St. Mary's family as we journey together in this good world of ours.

It's quite natural and easy to be grateful for these blessings and gifts.

But what about some of those places of gratefulness that may be a bit more unexpected? Recently I have found myself grateful for Dr. JoAnn O'Quin. She is reminding me that there can be gift in unexpected places, in places such as Alzheimer's and dementia. There are many of us who have a family member or friend who is caring for someone navigating one of these diseases. Dr. JoAnn O'Quin, professor at University of Mississippi and author, has a beautiful and knowledgeable way of sharing how none of us are alone as we navigate these waters and all of us can love those with these diseases and support those in caregiving roles.

I invite you to join me on Sunday, November 3rd at 12:30 for conversation and reflection with JoAnn. I promise you will walk away encouraged, strengthened, and empowered.

"Fifty Years Later: The State of Racism in America"

You're invited to join the Dean as he travels to St. Andrew's Episcopal Cathedral in Jackson, Mississippi for this groundbreaking Episcopal forum on race relations sponsored by The Episcopal Church and the Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi. Forum panelists include Presiding Bishop Katherine Jefferts Schori, The Rt. Rev. Michael Curry, Ms. Myrlie Evers-Williams, The Honorable William F. Winter, and Ray Suarez. We will plan to leave Friday morning, November 15 and stay in Jackson, MS overnight. We will return to Memphis on Saturday afternoon, November 16. Contact Andy (aandrews@stmarysmemphis.org) or Miranda (miranda@stmarysmemphis.org) for more information or to reserve your spot or call 901.527.3361.

For those unable to travel to this event, St. Mary's Episcopal School and Church of the Holy Communion will co-host a local viewing of this 90-minute live forum in Buckman Theater, at the corner of Walnut Grove and Perkins Extended. The showing will begin at 1:00pm (CST) on Friday, November 15. A discussion will follow the viewing so that our diocese may come together and be in dialog.

Joining us to help facilitate our local post-forum discussion will be Dr. Stephen Haynes, Professor of Religious Studies at Rhodes College and author of The Last Segregated Hour; Dr. Andre Johnson; and Dr. James L. Netters, Associate Professor of Rhetoric & Religion and African American Studies at Memphis Theological Seminary. This is an event that you won't want to miss!

For more information about the forum in general, go online to www.episcopalchurch.org/page/state-racism.

BENCH NOTES

A Word From Your Organist/Choirmaster

As those of you who regularly read this column know, we've been in the midst of a campaign to raise funds for the absolutely beautiful Yamaha 9-foot concert grand piano currently sitting in our Cathedral nave. At the time of writing this article, we have raised almost the entire $40,800 to purchase this instrument outright! I want to thank all of you who have enthusiastically supported this endeavor with your kind words and incredible generosity. The funds raised for this piano came entirely from private, non-pledge donations and from designated funds at the Cathedral and is completely separate from our operating funds and expenses. I am incredibly thankful to have had the unqualified support of the clergy, Finance Committee, Cathedral Chapter, and from so many in the congregation to purchase this musical work of art that is already enhancing our Sunday morning worship experience. This is a 100-year investment in the music ministry of St. Mary's, and with this instrument, we will finally have a piano that can fill the cavernous Cathedral space and that can be used to attract different talent for our thriving Music at St. Mary's concert series.

Finally, I would be remiss if I did not publicly recognize Jim Johnson. Jim is the individual who found this piano for us, was able to negotiate a dynamite price tag, and who was the driving force behind this entire campaign. Jim immediately recognized what a gift this would be for St. Mary's, and we are incredibly grateful to him for his vision and steadfast support. Out of his dream has come a reality that generations of Cathedral-goers will benefit from for many decades to come.

Soli Deo Gloria,
Scott Elsholz

Music at St. Mary's:
27th Annual Rhodes College
Christmas at St. Mary's
Sunday, November 24, 2013, 7:00 p.m.

Due to the late date arrival of the Pilgrims, coupled with a quick exodus of Rhodes students to final exams thereafter, this year's annual Christmas at St. Mary's will get us all in the Christmas spirit, just a little earlier than usual.

On Sunday, November 24 at 7 pm, the Rhodes Choirs will perform their annual Christmas Concert at St. Mary's Episcopal Cathedral. This 75-minute program features a variety of music of the season. The Rhodes Singers, Women's Chorus, Men's Chorus will be the featured ensembles, with a special performance of BealeCanto, a professional men's vocal ensemble. James Harr, Mona Kreitner and William Skoog are the conductors.

Meet Katie Ratton

Katie is a prosecutor at 201 Poplar and wife/mom to her husband Rob and three children, Sara Kate, Anna, and Gabe.

Where did you grow up?

I grew up in St. Louis, Missouri, go Cards. I went to college at the University of Kansas and eventually made it to law school at the University of Iowa where I met my husband, Rob, in torts class.

What books or tv shows are you reading/watching right now?

I'm reading Still Alice by Lisa Genova. It's a book about a psych professor at Harvard who has been diagnosed with early onset Alzheimer's. It sounds really depressing and horrible but it's actually pretty good and oddly uplifting.

As for television, Rob and I are latecomers to Breaking Bad, so we are feverishly getting caught up and making our way through season 2.

What makes you delighted in this moment?

Delighted in this moment? The weather!!! Everything about fall is fantastic, from the leaves, to college football, to bourbon and red wine, to layering clothes, to snuggling under the covers, to the smell. Fall rocks.

What do you like about St. Mary's?

I love the vibe of St. Mary's. I love that my kids can be themselves and maybe even a little less than themselves at times and we are never kicked out or asked to leave. I love how St. Mary's not only "accepts everyone" but how "everyone" is really what defines St. Mary's.

Any treasures you've found in Memphis?

I suppose it would be hokey for me to say St. Mary's, but it's true. I also like Shelby Forest and Overton Park; the Levitt Shell, no doubt; WEVL has some good things going; the new Hi-Tone on Cleveland seems to be a great thing now that they have early shows for us older people; and I have just been introduced to Wise Acre which I really liked a lot. I think that Memphis in and of itself may fast be becoming a treasure.

What are ways you feel God's presence and love in your life?

I feel God's presence and love in my life through my kids and husband. I was clearly fond of my husband before we had kids, but seeing him with the kids makes me love him even more. It's difficult to explain. And those three kids: God knew what was up when those friends came into this world. It's a feeling of complete and total gratitude for my family at times—while those times may be super brief, and at times far between,—followed by, well, maybe not so much gratitude, yet those glimpses are God for me.
